

Please do not limit the technology, the convenience, and the programming possibilities of satellite radio. XM allows me to enjoy my commute, something that I never thought possible in Washington DC. With the added features of local broadcasting, it is a necessity for my local travel. Don't give the media giants an easy out when someone else builds a better mousetrap.